Management model

As operating manager, we take on the functional responsibility for technical and/or commercial processes. The local authority can fulfil its obligations and remain the owner of the fixed assets. Municipal operating staff can be also be provided to the operational management company. The result is efficient management with high potential savings. Your citizens can benefit from consistently high quality standards with stable costs.

Cooperation model

Long-term planning capability and risk minimisation through cooperation are the key features of the cooperation model thanks to the optimal division of tasks. By establishing a cooperative business, the local authority's influence is ensured and it can participate directly in the company's success. The benefits of efficient management can be integrated in the model.

The municipal involvement is often agreed at between 74.9% and 51%. A secure and future-proof concept which can only benefit your local authority.

Operator model

The operator model follows the concept of a public private partnership. It has been in practice for many years and has been successful on both a national and international scale. As a partner to local authorities, we take responsibility for the planning, financing, construction and management of systems. The local authority remains responsible from a public perspective and also retains control over costs. By choosing our operator model (operator agreement), you are laying the foundation for a secure and reliable service on which your citizens can rely in the future.
